BARN QUILTS

A barn quilt is art, and they are no longer just limited to barns. You can find them on historical buildings, schools, churches, municipal buildings, and museums. Barn quilts are not a new tradition. In fact, they have been around for almost 300 years now. In many areas it has increased the flow of tourists to view these quilts. In August 2023, members of the Whitewater Historical Society came together to craft these beautiful barn quilts. By Spring 2024, these creations were displayed on the Exhibit Hall, Drive Shed, Ross House, and St. Aidan's Church.
