1985 - 2025

THE DREAM

The journey of the Ross Museum began in 1985, when Bill and Iva Oates, along with a group of community members, set out to transform their dream of a local museum into reality.

LAND DONATION

The establishment of the Ross Museum was made possible by the generous donation of land from Roy and Bette Ann Dittburner.

ROSS HOUSE

The “Ross House”, a replica of an early 1800’s log home was gifted by Jack and Janice McLaren.

HISTORY OF ROSS HOUSE

The Home stood on the farm originally settled in 1831 by James Ross from Scotland and his wife, Elizabeth Galley, and 4 children. Seven more children were born to the couple here.

HISTORY OF ROSS HOUSE

Mr. Ross paid off the price of his farm to the government sooner than he was obligated to, so he asked for a partial refund. He was offered the alternative of naming the Township so he named it “Ross Township”, after himself.

Neil "David" ROSS (oldest son) 1830 - 1901 (71 years)

HISTORY OF ROSS HOUSE

Thomas Ross, 1850-1931, inherited the farm after the death of his father, James Ross in 1887. Thomas was the youngest son and he married Christine McCulloch. They had three children.

HISTORY OF ROSS HOUSE

Thomas Ross and his wife had 2 daughters and a son who died in infancy. Daughter, Elizabeth Jane, married John Code who lived to be 101. Elizabeth Jane and John Code had 6 children.

1882-1933 (50 years)

HISTORY OF ROSS HOUSE

Lily “Irene” Code, 1912-1994, daughter of Elizabeth Jane and John Code, married Clifford McLaren and they had one son, Jack McLaren, who gifted his ancestral home which is now known as “Ross Museum”.

Irene and Clifford McLaren celebrate 50 years of marriage.

DISMANTLING THE LOG HOME

Pictured are Ross Code, who was born in the house, and Jack and Janice McLaren.

DISMANTLING THE LOG HOME

Ross Code watches through the window of the house he was born in while Doug Patterson, Mac Coughlin and Bill Oates dismantle the home.

DISMANTLING THE LOG HOME

Downstairs kitchen walls were insulated with cement bags and covered layer upon layer of wallpaper. The stairway was closed in with beautiful wide pine boards.

Exhibit Hall

The Exhibit Hall was formerly the Ross Township Fire Hall built in 1954.

The Township gave the building to the Ross Township Historical Society in July 1996.

Exhibit Hall

Today, you can step back in time to visit Lester Jack's iconic barber shop and discover the intricate millinery and sewing sections that showcase the artistry of the past.

We also feature military and photo history displays that bring to life the rich heritage of our community.

Exhibit Hall

You can also step back in time to the Bennie's Store in Beachburg

The Drive Shed

houses the implements of the past.

An early walking plow, farming tools, logging equipment and a photo logging exhibit are a few of the featured areas of interest in the drive shed.

St. Aidan's Church

St. Aidan's Church History

- By 1869 Foresters Falls was an outstation of the mission of Beachburg. In 1891 a church dedicated to St. Aidan was built on the 15th concession, 3rd line in Alice Township. By 1909 most of the congregation in that area had moved away.

St. Aidan's Church History

On September 29, 1909, William S. Coleman and his wife Margaret of Foresters Falls, seeing the need of an Anglican Church in the village, deeded a parcel of land to the Diocese of Ottawa. The Church of St. Aidan in Alice Township was cut into 3 sections and moved the 25 miles to Foresters Falls. A petition was sent to the Archbishop of the Diocese of Ottawa and on October 8, 1909, the church was consecrated for public worship.

St. Aidan's Church

Over time, extensive renovations were done and the church was bricked.

Wardens at the time were W. S. Coleman and Peter Danlin. Over the years three generations of the Colemans served as Church Wardens.

St. Aidan's Church

The Church was deconsecrated by the Ottawa Diocese in 1969 and then converted into a public library for the community.

In 2002 the Township Council asked the Whitewater Historical Society to take over the church.

The History of the Church was compiled by Kay and Ester Coleman. Kay is the grandson of W.S. Coleman.

St. Aidan's Church

Volunteers restored this local landmark to its former beauty as a sanctuary. We now have a space where meetings and/or special events can be held. The church displays many of the original artifacts.

ROSS MUSEUM TODAY 2025

ROSS MUSEUM TODAY

Throughout the years, our museum has proudly accepted a diverse array of artifacts from across the region, each telling a unique story of our shared heritage. We remain committed to this mission, continually welcoming new contributions that help us preserve and celebrate the rich tapestry of our history for future generations.

Ozzie Caswell

Following his retirement, Ozzie embraced a new chapter at the Ross Museum, diving into the art of woodworking. As a dedicated volunteer, he meticulously crafted stunning designs of historic trains, each piece a testament to his passion and skill. Today, these remarkable creations are proudly showcased at the Museum.

Hazel Hawthorn

Hazel Hawthorn is a founding member of the Ross Museum and today she is still active and participating in our Museum events.

Snowroller Project

We are actively engaged in a project to build a shelter for our snowroller. We are excited to move forward and bring this vision to life. Thanks to the generous contributions from our members and the community, we have made significant progress in fundraising for the housing of the snowroller. Our commitment to this project remains strong as we continue to seek additional support.
